

I used the XM local Traffic and Weather on a recent trip through Washington and Baltimore and found the service excellent. Market protection is not the way to go and the the broadcasters should improve their services to compete. Lowest common denominator is not progress.